

How to Register

You can register to participate in the Roosevelt Wright, Jr. Church Drama Festival online or through the mail.

Online Registration

You can register and pay online. Our website will make it possible for you to register as a group or as an individual on line. In addition, you will also be able to enter any competitions online.

It is possible to register online and send your check through the mail. Please note however, that your registration is not complete until the check clears the bank, so make sure you give yourself enough time prior to the festival to complete all of your arrangements.

After you have registered, you will receive a receipt and packet of information in the mail. Remember to register early! It will allow us the needed time to send you a map, hotel info and a tentative schedule so you can assign your attendees to specific workshops.

Registration Policies

Your paid registration must be received and your check cleared (if you pay by check instead of credit card) at least ten days before the festival in order to receive the advance rate. Payment must accompany your registration.

Your registration must be paid in order to enter competition. Be sure to include the name of the piece you plan to perform, or your competition registration cannot be confirmed.

Registration is Non-Refundable. If you cancel or change your mind about attending, there are no refunds. However, you can submit substitutes for persons who cannot attend.

Please note that children under age 10 will not be admitted. Please do not bring babies, toddlers, or young children to the festival. The festival is for adults and youth over 10 years old.
